DUTY OF CANDOUR

ANNUAL REPORT

APRIL 2020 TO APRIL 2021

Duty of Candour annual report

Duty of Candour is a legal requirement to ensure that if something goes wrong in health or social care services the people affected are offered an explanation, an apology and an assurance that staff will learn from the error. The learning is shared with the people affected and throughout Scotland.

Openness and honesty should be central to the actions of those providing care to others. It should be at the heart of every relationship between those providing, receiving and/or experiencing treatment and care. Trust and effective communication can be difficult to maintain and easy to lose when things have gone wrong.

About our organisation

This report describes how a medium sized Care at Home provider has implemented Duty of Candour throughout the period of April 2019 to March 2020.

“IKL Care” supports 76 people to live in their own individual homes with a team of supporter workers who are matched to work for the person and provide a personal, flexible and tailored support that meets their individual needs. Each service users personal care plan is tailored specifically for their own needs.

“IKL Care” has a Duty of Candour policy and staff guidance.

All staff have undertaken training to help them understand the Organisation’s policy and the process of the Duty of Candour which could affect them. The people we supply care for have a variety of support needs.

The “Duty of Candour” training has now been incorporated into our Induction process, where all new staff are taken through the policy as part of their initial training. Any updates to the policy are cascaded to our support workers when required.

Incident Reporting

All health and social care services in Scotland must provide an annual duty of candour report for their service. As a Care at home provider this information is sent to our regulator the Care Inspectorate.

What have we learned?

The publicizing of our Duty of Candour report is slightly delayed this year given the current Covid-19 Pandemic situation. During the past year:

- We have continued to support staff in understanding the process as some find it confusing. The guidance continues to be very helpful.
- We have continued to pass on the understanding of the importance of honesty and clarity when carrying out all tasks associated with supplying care at home to our service users.
- Our Duty of Candour continues to be part of our managers meeting and any issues/learnings are discussed at staff meetings.

Procedure

In the year from April 2019 to April 2020 we had no reportable incidents which come under the reporting guidelines for Duty of Candour.

How have you made sure that you (and your staff) understand your responsibilities relating to the duty of candour and have systems in place to respond effectively? How have you done this?	We have a Duty of Candour policy as part of our incident and accident reporting procedure. Full training and explanation of Duty of Candour has been incorporated into our Induction day presentation as well as all our staff having been taken through Duty of Candour training. Any updates are cascaded to all staff members. Managers have been taken through a separate presentation for their duties under Duty of candour for recording & reporting.
Do you have a Duty of Candour Policy or written duty of candour procedure?	Yes, we have a Duty of Candour policy for both our service users and support workers and a training presentation for both support workers and supervisors/managers.

Did the responsible person for triggering duty of candour appropriately follow the procedure? If not, did this result in any under or over reporting of duty of candour?	We have had no reportable issues under the duty of candour guidelines.
What lessons did you learn?	Although we have had no reportable issues under the duty of candour guidelines, we use any minor issues as a guide to assist us all in learning how to use the duty of candour process.
What learning & improvements have been put in place as a result?	Frequent updates sent to staff regarding possible duty of candour issues via staff information notes. We have implemented duty of candour training into our standard induction training, including a duty of candour presentation which we use as part of our ongoing training and induction process.
Did this result in a change / update to your duty of candour policy / procedure?	No
How did you share lessons learned and with whom?	We have spoken to all our staff via training days and have incorporated all our duty of candour information into our service users personal support plans so that they know how the process works for our service users.
Could any further improvements be made?	Any updates to the process will be cascaded to both our support workers and service users.
What systems do you have in place to support staff to provide an apology in a person-centred way and how do you support staff to enable them to do this?	We would hold informal meetings with any staff involved with a duty of candour incident and would issue a face to face apology to any of our service users who had been affected by any issues. We hold staff meetings and supervised sessions where duty of candour is discussed as part of these processes.
What support do you have available for people involved in invoking the procedure and those who might be affected?	The duty of candour process is now part of our managers weekly meetings. All persons responsible for invoking the procedure are taken through a separate training presentation specifically designed for managers/supervisors who would deal with invoking the policy and reporting to the appropriate people.
